

Rebecca Leppard – Senior Associate and Business Coach

Rebecca is one of the most talented business coaches that you will come across.

Working in partnership with Senior Executives and Managers, Rebecca has acted as internal consultant, coach, mentor and facilitator to ensure the successful delivery of talent and leadership programmes and change initiatives.

Rebecca brings a wealth of experience from her customer service background in a variety of sales and marketing roles, ensuring that excellence is delivered from the customer's perspective.

Over the past few years Rebecca has concentrated on developing her coaching skills and is an accredited coach and mentor. She is also a trained assessor and 360 degree facilitator and has extensive experience in designing, organising and delivering assessment & development centres for both senior and executive level managers within the NHS.

Rebecca's enthusiasm for coaching and mentoring has enabled her to design and implement coaching and mentoring programmes, whilst developing her skills as a one-to-one coach and mentor. Rebecca's passion is enabling people to reach their full potential, grow in confidence and realise their talent.

Rebecca will be working with PDG to develop new packages of one-to-one coaching and programmes, tailored to the client's specific business needs. Rebecca's background in customer service and her proven ability as a one-to-one coach brings an exciting new dimension to the PDG portfolio.
